"Is it possible that Aunt Rose was suc-cessful?" cried Andre, beside himself with

"It must be that. But what means did she employ? What is her secret?"

It was a long time before they found out, and then Andre overheard a conversation not meant for his ears.

"I was right, was I not, to keep my faith in your good heart, and to intercept that first dispatch before I went to see you?" asked Aunt Rose, in a voice that Andre had never heard her make so tender and soft in

"Ab, Rose!" responded M. Delvalley in a voice stranger still to the listener, "how could I know that the girl of Andre's choice was your niece? To think that I was about to separate them, as your father separated us, because I was then poor — that they would have suffered all that I suffered in giving you up, and in thinking of you all these years! And now that we are united at last, you will not refuse"—but suddenly Andre realized that he was listening and crept softly awar.—From the French.

Tons of Good Reading Matter Have Been Shipped to the Soldiers in the Philippines.

The movement begun by the wife of Chief Surgeon Greenleaf, United States navy, of the department of the Pacific. to establish a circulating library in Manila for the benefit of the soldiers, has been most successful. Maj. Put-nam Bradlee Strong, who has heartily cooperated in the movement and who is an officer of the International Express company at New York, said: "The undertaking has been a remarkable success, and the American soldiers in the Philippines are receiving an abundance of entertaining reading matter. By an arrangement with our company each outgoing ship agrees to carry, free of charge, two tons of reading matter in the form of books, magazines and papers. Last Saturday we had more than four tons of such material, and, rather than hold the additional two tonshere, our company paid the freight charges on the extra matter. We still have several large cases to ship."
